IT'S TESTING TIME AGAIN!

For our third and fourth graders, the spring brings both ILEARN and IREAD3 testing, which are standardized tests that allow students the opportunity to exhibit all they have learned in school.

Even if your student is not in either of these two grades, it is important to become familiar with both of these two state mandated assessments. The ILEARN assessment is taken both in third and fourth grade and allows a student to show both proficiency and growth on the English/Language Arts, Math, and Science academic standards. In almost all circumstances, a student must pass IREAD3 in order to be promoted to fourth grade. As daunting as these test might seem, please rest assured that our teachers and staff have thoroughly prepared your student for each assessment. Please support our efforts during this testing season by making sure your child is on time to school, gets an adequate amount of sleep, and eats healthy meals.

Lastly, for our kindergarten, first and second grade parents, please support your student's future testing efforts by continuously reading with your child at home. As we have discussed many times before, literacy is the most profound indicator of a child's success in school. The more a child reads, the more successful he or she will be in their academic career.

Sincerely,

COUNSELOR'S CORNER

Testing season is approaching, but it WILL be ok! There are many students who feel the pressure of IREAD and ILEARN in 3rd and 4th grade, but please remind your child to be proactive. Get plenty of sleep, eat a balanced breakfast, and think positively. Thinking positively can change the outcome!
